Dear [Rights Holder],

As part of my graduate studies at the University of Lethbridge I am working on a [masters/doctoral] thesis entitled [thesis title]. I am writing to request permission to include the following work in my thesis:

Author(s):

Title:

Journal Title, Volume and Issue Number (if applicable):

Page Range, Figure/Table number(s) (if applicable):

Publisher:

Publication Date:

URL (if applicable):

If permission is granted, reproduction of the above-noted material in my thesis will be accompanied by appropriate attribution. After it is finalized and approved, my thesis will be publicly accessible under a non-exclusive license through the University of Lethbridge institutional repository and library catalogue, the Theses Canada Portal at Library and Archives Canada [and the ProQuest Dissertations & Theses A&I database – include only if you intend to allow the University of Lethbridge to submit a copy of your thesis on your behalf to ProQuest].

I would greatly appreciate receipt of the requested permission in writing (reply email will suffice) at your earliest convenience. Please let me know if you require further information about this request.

Sincerely,

[Your Name, Your U of L email address]
