How We Came To Study The Things We Do

A range of women faculty from the University of Lethbridge take up the challenge to use only the ten hundred most used words to introduce the area that they study. Each panelist will further talk about how they came to study that area (using more than just those words).

Speakers: Christine Clark, Elizabeth Galway, Habiba Kadiri,

Darlene St. Georges, and Amy Shaw.

Admission is free. Everyone welcome Snacks and a cash bar will be provided.
