

Snake Safety

By: Friends of the Helen Schuler Nature Centre Society with Guest Speaker, Ken Moore, UofL Alumnus '88 & local naturalist specializing in snakes

Wednesday, May 16th, 2018 from 12 pm – 1pm in L 1114

The University of Lethbridge's unique coulee location puts us right in the heart of things and we often enjoy wildlife on campus. One coulee dweller who might concern us is the rattlesnake.

Rattlesnakes are out and about, and the Friends of the Helen Schuler Nature Centre Society will offer a session filled with excellent information about our slithering neighbours, as well as give tips and tricks for co-existing in peace. Bring your lunch and join us for this session!
