Chapola's Decolonial Feminist Journey
as a Racialized Settler Woman:
On How to be an Anti-racist in Canada

My doctoral research journey tells the story of my racialized settler woman's transformative journey toward transnational solidarity, mutual empowerment and how to be an anti-racist through community engagements in Saskatoon, Canada.

Dr. Jebunnessa Chapola (pronoun: she/her)

SSHRC Postdoctoral Fellow

Johnson Shoyama Graduate School of Public Policy
University of Regina, Saskatchewan

Research as Anti-racist Celebration

In this presentation, I will share my 17 years of anti-racist and decolonial research journey with various Black, Indigenous, and racialized immigrants and other land-based minority communities worldwide.

Dr. Ranjan Datta
