

Program Planning Enclosure

Calendar Year: 2010/2011

Faculty: Arts & Science (U of L)

Current and past Program Planning Guides are available on the UofL website at www.uleth.ca/ross/ppgs/ppg.html

Students with an academic objective of Journalism are generally admitted to a B.A. program at the University of Lethbridge with a major of the student's choice. Majors in Economics, English, History, Political Science or Sociology may be of particular interest.

The University of Lethbridge offers courses that will qualify students for application to the School of Journalism at the University of Regina. Prospective applicants must have completed at least 20 semester courses to be considered for admission.

To be eligible for admission, students must have the following:

English 1900 - Introduction to Language and Literature

One of:

- English 2000 - Survey of Canadian Literature
- English 2100 - Poetry
- English 2200 - Drama
- English 2300 - Prose Fiction
- English 2400 - Survey of English Literature I
- English 2450 - Survey of English Literature II
- English 2500 - Survey of American Literature I
- English 2550 - Survey of American Literature II

Two courses in a language other than English (both must be in the same language at the 1000 level or higher), chosen from:
French, German, Japanese, or Spanish

One of:

- Logic 1000 - Critical Thinking
- Mathematics 1410 - Elementary Linear Algebra
- Mathematics 1510 - Calculus for Management and Social Sciences
- Mathematics 1560 - Calculus I

One of:

- Biology 1010 - Cellular Basis of Life
- Biology 1020 - Diversity of Life
- Chemistry 1000 - General Chemistry I
- *Geology 2060 - Physical Geology
- Physics 1000 - Introduction to Physics I
- Physics 1050 - Introduction to Biophysics

One of:

- Art History/Museum Studies 1000 - Introduction to Art
- Drama 1000 - Introduction to Dramatic Arts
- Music 1000 - Introduction to Music

One of:

- Linguistics 2300 - Introduction to Linguistics I: Phonetics and Phonology
- Philosophy 1000 - Introduction to Philosophy
- Religious Studies 1000 - Introduction to World Religions
- Women's Studies 1000 - Knowing Bodies: An Introduction to Women's Studies
- Additional English course
- Additional language course

Three of:

- Economics 1010 - Introduction to Microeconomics
- OR Economics 1012 - Introduction to Macroeconomics
- *History 2710 - Canada to 1867 OR
- *History 2720 - Canada Since 1867
- *Political Science 2210 - Canadian Politics and Government
- *Sociology 3390 - Sociology of Mass Communication

*Has prerequisite.

It is strongly recommended that applicants be able to type a minimum of 30 words per minute.

Application Information for the School of Journalism:

Competition for admission to the Bachelor of Arts in Journalism program at the University of Regina is keen. Students are cautioned that adherence to the program requirements (as indicated on the previous page) is mandatory; applications will be eliminated from consideration if any required course has not been taken.

Students may also apply for a Bachelor of Journalism. This degree is for students with any previous degree who seek to specialize in Journalism. There are no specific courses required for admission to the Bachelor of Journalism degree. The previous degree must be conferred no later than Spring Convocation of the year for which admission is sought.

The School admits a maximum of 26 students per year.

Application Procedure:

Applications to the program must be received by the University of Regina Admissions Office by January 31 of the year in which admission is sought. As well as completing the pre-Journalism requirements, students must:

1. Achieve a cumulative GPA of 3.00 (B);
2. Pass an entrance examination testing English proficiency, critical thinking, and knowledge of current events; and,
3. Perform successfully in an interview before a selection board comprised of University of Regina faculty and news media representatives.

Entrance examinations and interviews are held between February and April. Applicants will be notified of the admission decision in writing.

The School of Journalism stresses the utility of a broad liberal arts base acquired during the minimum two years (60.0 credit hours) of pre-Journalism studies.

After admission to the School, students concentrate on the study and techniques of Journalism itself in a full-time, two-year (60.0 credit hour) program consisting of three terms of coursework and a four-month (one semester) internship, which every student must complete to earn the degree. Students are placed with a news media organization in western Canada and gain practical experience in the field. Completion of a practicum often leads to later employment opportunities and allows students the opportunity to gain professional experience.

The two years of Journalism studies must be completed in full at the University of Regina.

The average is calculated on the best 60.0 credit hours that fit the requirements. If a course has been repeated, only the second attempt will be considered even if that is not the better of the two. Pass/Fail courses are not included in the calculation of a student's average.

Although it is not necessary to maintain a full-time courseload during the pre-Journalism program, the Journalism program is a full-time load and you should be prepared to handle that.

Contact Information:

Students who are interested in the pre-Journalism program should contact Student Program Services (SU060, tel. 403-329-5106; email: artsci.advising@uleth.ca) for program selection and advice. Direct consultation with the University of Regina is also suggested.

School of Journalism
University of Regina
Regina, Saskatchewan
S4S 0A2
Tel. 306-585-4420
Fax 306-585-4867
Email: journalism@uregina.ca
Website: www.arts.uregina.ca/journalism

