Course Description

Abnormal Psychology examines the realm of abnormal behaviour and experiences, their causes and developmental course, and their treatments. This past decade is marked by a blossoming of research on the entire range of psychological disorders, yielding tremendous insight and the recent publication of a new Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of Mental Disorders (the DSM-5; 2013) by the American Psychiatric Association. In this course we will investigate: historical perspectives on abnormality; a wide range of psychopathologies currently included in the DSM; major theoretical perspectives that attempt to explain mental illness; and research approaches to altering abnormal behaviour.

* Prerequisite: Psychology 1000

Moodle

In addition to your textbook, Moodle will be used to provide information, assignments, study material, practice exams, etc. for the course. It is your responsibility to keep up to date. Students are strongly encouraged to access the course Moodle site multiple times per week as important materials, discussions, and announcements will be posted regularly throughout the semester.

Copyright, Moodle, and Intellectual Property

With the exception of information that is freely available on the Internet, all course materials should be treated as copyright-protected. You are free to make personal use of any materials posted within Moodle, and you are free to take your own notes in class (of course!). You are not permitted to distribute materials or information in any form to persons not registered in this course in this semester. Once information is in your hands, you are responsible for what you do with it; the Instructor will not be held accountable for students who choose to violate copyright law. Audio or video recording of lectures or any other in-class presentation or activity is strictly prohibited. Doing so is a serious offence as it violates intellectual property rights and the privacy of your classmates who have not consented to have their voice/questions recorded.

Grade Assessment

Your overall grade in the course will be determined by the following:

Assignments	20%
Midterm Exam 1	25%
Midterm Exam 2	25%
Final Exam	30%

- ❖ 2 Midterm Exams: in total worth 50% of your course grade.
 - Exams will consist of a combination of questions (i.e., multiple choice, true/false, &/or matching questions, fill-in-the-blank, listing, labeling questions, &/or short answer).
 - Details regarding the exact format of exams will be made available during class closer to the exam date.
 - Midterm exams are non-cumulative and will cover material from class lectures, class activities and discussion, videos, and any additional required readings and resources. Each exam has a time limit of 60 minutes.
 - Tentative midterm exam schedule:
 - Midterm Exam 1 - October 6 (9:00 a.m.) – October 13 (5:00 p.m.)
 - Midterm Exam 2 - November 3 (9:00 a.m.) – November 10 (5:00 p.m.)

- ❖ Final Exam: worth 30% of your course grade.
 - The final exam will be administered during the Final Examination Period (December 9th to December 18th). The final exam will be 2 hours in length and will cover the entire course material. The final exam may consist of a combination of questions (e.g., multiple choice, true/false, &/or matching questions, fill-in-the-blank, listing, labeling questions, &/or short answer).

Assignments

Assignments will be submitted to the class (that is, the instructor and other students in the class) through the Blog function on Moodle. In addition to submitting your own assignment, you will be responsible for commenting on the assignments of other students. Assignments are to be done at your convenience and posted by designated times (usually 1 week after the work is assigned). These assignments will involve short essays, comment, and opinion regarding a focal reading for that week. The readings (or links to them, or instructions on how to obtain them) will be available on the Moodle web-site (<http://moodle.uleth.ca>) for the course. Although I strongly encourage you to work together in groups, the work you subsequently submit must be your own (i.e., you cannot post one response as a group or copy and paste a response). It is an academic offence to submit someone else's work as your own. Please see section 4 of Academic Offences, Student Discipline Policy academic offences of the University Calendar for details. <https://www.uleth.ca/ross/sites/ross/files/imported/academic-calendar/2017-18/part04.pdf>

Exam Procedures

All exams will be closed-book, written out of class at the University of Lethbridge's Testing Centre (B7 labs), using the online Moodle testing utility. Should you require assistance with Moodle or your account, please contact the Teaching Centre staff (email: teachingcentre@uleth.ca). Students should familiarize themselves with the Testing Centre procedures and hours of operation before arriving to write an exam (see: <http://www.uleth.ca/teachingcentre/testing-centre>). Access is granted on a first-come, first-serve basis. Students must submit each exam by the scheduled closing date and time, so be sure to allow yourself adequate opportunity to complete your exam. It is strongly recommended that students write the exam as early as possible during the scheduled exam period as seating in the testing centre is limited and demand is high.

Missed Exam /Missed Assignment Policy

If a student is unable to write an exam during the designated exam period, please contact the course Instructor as soon as possible. Medical reasons must be supported by a physician's statement that test performance would be seriously affected by the illness, along with the physician's name and contact information. Non-medical reasons must also be supported. It is the student's responsibility to contact the Instructor to set up a make-up exam. Unless a medical note, documentation of bereavement, or other acceptable documentation is presented, a grade of 0% will be assigned for any exam not written during the designated time.

Following exams, I will be available to meet with you, discuss your test results, and review the correct answers. If you would like to discuss your exam, please email myself to arrange a mutually agreeable meeting time.

Students with Special Needs

If you have a documented condition that prevents you from fully participating in this course, including evaluation procedures, it is your responsibility to contact your Instructor regarding your individual situation. Please note that no accommodations will be given without official notification from the Accommodated Learning Centre (<http://www.uleth.ca/ross/accommodated-learning-centre/>)

Grade Ranges

Letter grades will be assigned to final course percentages according to the following scale:

Letter	GPA	Percent	Letter	GPA	Percent

B-	2.7	68 - 71.9%	F	0	0 - 49.9%

Experimental Research Participation and Bonus Points

This course provides students with an opportunity to get involved as a participant in ongoing research projects. If you volunteer to be a participant, each project usually requires about one hour of your time. In recognition of the value of your data, and in recognition that you are learning something about the discipline of scientific psychology, beyond that of the typical classroom environment, an extra credit of 1 to 2% for each study (variable) in which you participate will be added to your final course percentage. MAXIMUM EXTRA CREDIT = 2%. These extra credits are added after all grade cutoffs have been established for course work, such that students who choose not to participate are not disadvantaged.

Directions for Participation:

You will receive an email to your U of L account with your Login name and password. Please go to <http://psychleth.sona-systems.com> and sign in as soon as you receive notification to do so. Studies will then become available on September 15, 2017. There will be NO transfer of credits between courses. If you are registered in another course that offers credits, a second email will be sent to you with a different email and password. Sign up in the course to which you want your credits to be assigned.

Further studies and timeslots will be added throughout the semester, please keep checking, but remember that participation is on a first-come basis. Note that not all students may not be able to achieve the maximum credit. Questions regarding research participation should be directed to Leanne at wehlage@uleth.ca. The last date to participate in studies is December 6, 2017.

University, Classroom, and Teaching Policies and Procedures

- ❖ Everyone is entitled to their own opinion, but not their own facts. Given the nature of the course material, a diversity of viewpoints will inevitably exist in the classroom. Voicing well-reasoned disagreement with others' opinions is perfectly fine; being combative, intolerant, or disrespectful toward others is not (see the University Calendar Section 5.b.1). Open-mindedness is a prerequisite for learning.
- ❖ As per the University Calendar, Section 5.h.1.: "When a student disrupts instructional activities, the instructor may exclude the student immediately from instructional space and/or from future scheduled instructional meetings of that course pending further actions by the Dean."
- ❖ When students talk amongst themselves during lecture, it disrupts instructional activities and, consequently, your Instructor must respond according to the University Calendar regulation. To minimize other forms of disruption, turn off your cell phone or any other noise-emitting device prior to the beginning of class. Avoid engaging in off-task Internet use (e.g., Facebook, Google, Texting) during lectures as it distracts you and others around you.
- ❖ Students are responsible for familiarizing themselves with the Academic Regulations and Policies contained within the University of Lethbridge Academic Calendar https://www.uleth.ca/ross/sites/ross/files/imported/academic-calendar/2016-17/cal_doc.pdf
- ❖ In all email messages addressed to the Instructor or Teaching Assistant, include the course name and topic of your email in the Subject line. Address the recipient appropriately by name, and end the email by typing your full name. Adhering to this structure makes sending accurate replies and keeping track of correspondences much easier! Every effort will be made to respond to email inquiries in a timely manner during weekday 'working hours' (Monday morning through Friday afternoon). If you fail to structure your email correspondence by these guidelines, or if you email the Instructor with a question that has been clearly answered on Moodle or in this course outline, do not expect a reply.

Tips for success in PSYC 2505

- ❖ Keep your chin up. Research tells us that texting while driving increases one's risk of car accident to a degree roughly equivalent to that of driving drunk. Instructors' experience tells us that texting during class increases students' risk of failing to a degree roughly equivalent to that of coming to class drunk. To increase your likelihood of success - don't do either, or send a designated note-taker on your behalf.
- ❖ Understand that your instructor is your ally, not your adversary. As your Instructor, I want nothing more than for you to feel passionate about, engaged in, and enthralled by Abnormal Psychology as much as I am. I want you to learn, understand, and apply the material, to succeed and earn high grades in the course. I can help you achieve this goal, but I cannot do it for you.
- ❖ Achieving success requires regular class attendance, showing up on time (i.e., before the lecture begins), staying until class has officially ended, paying full attention during lecture, participating in class activities, completing all assigned work, and checking Moodle frequently for valuable resources.
- ❖ If in doubt, find out. If you are unclear about any of the material presented in class or posted as assigned readings in Moodle, or if you have a question that has not been answered in any of the valuable course resources that have been provided to help you, then ASK! Your Instructor is more than happy to address any pertinent questions you may have.
