Book launch — Unchained Man: The Arctic Life and Times of Captain Robert Abram Bartlett

Saturday, June 23, 2 to 4 p.m., Chapters, 701 1 Ave. S.

Dr. Maura Hanrahan researched archives in four countries for her biography of Robert Bartlett, an explorer and a central figure in Arctic history. In 1914, Bartlett trekked 700 miles across the frozen Arctic to save survivors of the sunken Karluq. He led many expeditions to the Arctic and spent years mapping and exploring its waters. Despite his celebrity, Bartlett was a complex man who struggled to find peace.
