University of Lethbridge highlights for the week of September 24 to 30

The University of Lethbridge has several events lined up this week that may be of interest to your readers, viewers and listeners. Members of the media who are interested in covering these events are encouraged to contact the individual event organizer directly.

#I Believe You campaign launch

Tuesday, Sept. 25, noon to 1:30 p.m., AH 100 (Andy's Place), Anderson Hall

The #I Believe You campaign's central message is to believe survivors when they disclose sexual assault. This year's launch includes a formal program and messages from community members and students. Information about support services will also be available.

Take Two Speaker Series

Thursday, Sept 27, 3:30 p.m., Andy's Place

In this first session of the academic year, titled Relationships: Research & Teaching, Drs. Erasmus Okine, vice-president (research), and Shelly Wismath, dean of Liberal Education, will discuss how teaching and research intertwine. How can teaching be brought into research? How does the U of L explore research and teaching to excel as a university and support student potential?

University of Lethbridge Orange Shirt Day

Friday, Sept, 28, 11:30 to 11:45 a.m. and 2:30 to 2:45 p.m., Students' Union Building front steps

Ulethbridge Enrolment Services and Indigenous Student Affairs are inviting everyone to join in a photo to be taken on the front steps of U of L Students' Union Building to honour Orange Shirt Day. Orange Shirt Day is an opportunity to recognize the harm the residential school system did to children's sense of self-esteem and well-being and as an affirmation of the commitment to ensure that each person matters.
