Job Description

BMO Financial Group:

Established in 1817, BMO Financial Group is a highly diversified financial services provider based in North America. With total assets of $719 billion and more than 45,000 employees, BMO provides a broad range of personal and commercial banking, wealth management and investment banking products and services to more than 12 million customers. BMO is the 8th largest bank in North America as measured by assets, as of July 31.

BMO Capital Markets:

BMO Capital Markets is a part of BMO Financial Group (NYSE, TSX: BMO), one of the largest diversified financial services providers in North America. For more information, visit www.bmo.com.

BMO Capital Markets provides a full range of products and services to help corporate, institutional and government clients achieve their ambitions. From 30 locations around the world, including 16 in North America, BMO Capital Markets draws on expertise in areas including equity and debt underwriting, corporate lending and project financing, mergers and acquisitions advisory services, merchant banking, securitization, treasury and market risk management, foreign exchange, derivatives, debt and equity research and institutional sales and trading.

Program Overview:

The Summer Analyst program is designed for candidates between their third and fourth undergraduate years. Summer Analysts are assigned to a specific Investment Banking product or industry group during the 16-week program. In addition to this on-the-job experience, the program includes the opportunity to network across various business groups, learn about the culture of BMO Capital Markets, participate in training and learning seminars, and obtain career guidance from dedicated mentors. The program is considered an initial interviewing step for the full time BMO Capital Markets Investment and Corporate Banking Development Program.

Responsibilities:

As an Investment Banking Summer Analyst at BMO Capital Markets, you will gain valuable exposure to a wide number of industries and work with a variety of financial products, including public and private debt and equity financings, mergers and acquisitions, and financial advisory. Specific responsibilities include:

- Running valuation analyses;
- Performing complex financial modeling;
- Conducting industry and company research and analysis;
- Developing client presentations;
- Writing internal and external marketing memoranda;
- Performing other tasks supporting client relationships and business development.

This position is ideally suited to talented, highly motivated individuals who seek to build a solid, comprehensive foundation in the basic skills of investment banking.
