

LINUX System Account Agreement for Undergrads

[revised 1 October 2020]

I have read and agree to the LINUX and GitLab Account Policy that is linked on the same webpage as this form.

I understand that this account is for students who are upper-level majors in Mathematics & Computer Science, and I will notify user "mcs-sysadmin-dg@uleth.ca" once I am no longer eligible for the account.

I agree that:

- These accounts are for educational and research purposes, and are intended for use in learning more about UNIX programming, computing and mathematical research. If a console is needed by a student for course work in one of the computer labs while on campus, I must relinquish the console to them.
- All printer usage must be purchased in advance. The current charge is 10 cents per single page and 16 cents per double-sided page and is sold in (non-refundable) units of 100 pages. This is only applicable when on campus. This can be purchased from the department Admin. Assistant when available.
