About the Women's Studies Major

Women's Studies provides an interdisciplinary environment for the examination of historical and contemporary significance of women from a global perspective. Analyses of culture, social institutions, human development and behaviour, and the gender constructions on which they are based, form the foundation of the program offerings in Women's Studies. Focusing on embodiment, and utilizing feminist theories, concepts, and methodologies, the major in Women's Studies seeks to inform, transform, and expand traditional forms of knowledge about women and gender in a culturally inclusive framework.

Utilizing Knowledge and Research From Diverse Fields

Utilizing knowledge and research from such diverse fields as biology, psychology, philosophy, sociology, economics, anthropology, medicine, literature, political science, and ethics, students in Women's Studies learn about the ways in which women's lives have been constructed, how they have changed, and how they continue to change. The intersection of the study of gender with that of race, class, age, ethnicity, sexuality, and other social constructs will be utilized to inform students of the complex and often sensitive issues involved in the study of women and the global movements to improve their lives.

Men and Women Have the Opportunity to Major in Women's Studies

Women and men have the opportunity to major in Women's Studies or to take individual courses in Women's Studies to add to and expand their knowledge and understanding within other disciplinary majors.

Co-operative Education

A Co-op option, requiring three work terms, is available. Students interested in the Co-operative Education/Internship program should contact the Coordinator of Co-operative Education in the Career Resources Centre (AH154 | phone: 403-382-7154) for further information.

Program Requirements

The B.A. degree with a major in Women's Studies requires 40 semester courses, including a minimum of 13 courses in the major. A maximum of 20 courses in Women's Studies is allowed.

Transfer Credit

Remember that you may use both University of Lethbridge credit and credit transferred from another college or university to meet degree and major requirements. Transfer credit may be either specified or unspecified. Specified credit is indicated on your transcript by the subject name and the specific number of the course, e.g., Women's Studies 1000, 2700, etc. Unspecified credit (1XXX, 2XXX, etc.) is indicated by the subject name and level of the course in parentheses, e.g., Women's Studies (1000 level), Women's Studies (2000 level), etc.

Unspecified Course Credit Unspecified course credit means that the University of Lethbridge does not offer the same course you transferred in, but we recognize it and treat it as a regular course. An unspecified course would count as one of your maximum of 20 from one department, but it could not meet a specific course requirement. For example, if Women's Studies 2700 is required in your program, you could not use Women's Studies (2000 level) to fulfill that requirement. Students with unspecified transfer credit need to consult an Academic Advisor to establish how the transfer credit fits in the degree program. This should be done as soon as possible after transfer credit is awarded.

Terms Used

GLER course: A course that could count toward the General Liberal Education Requirement. You may use courses in your major towards this 12-course requirement. See the 2011/2012 University of Lethbridge Calendar, Part 4 - Academic Regulations (p. 85) for complete information.

The Faculty of Arts and Science offers Liberal Education 1000 and 2000, specifically designed to introduce first-year students to the wide scope of human knowledge and teach essential university success skills, critical thinking, and integrative thinking (see the 2011/2012 University of Lethbridge Calendar, Part 14 - Courses, p. 306). LBED 1000 and 2000 may be used toward satisfying the GLER.

Elective: A course that you may choose freely from all those available and applicable to your program. Use courses inside or outside your major, bearing in mind any restrictions that may apply (e.g., a maximum of 20 courses from any one department).
