

Program Planning Enclosure

Calendar Year: 2019/2020

Current and past Program Planning Guides are available on the UofL website at www.uleth.ca/ross/ppgs

Faculty: Arts & Science (U of L)

Students with an academic objective of Journalism are generally admitted to a B.A. program at the University of Lethbridge with a major of the student's choice. Majors in Economics, English, History, Political Science or Sociology may be of particular interest.

The University of Lethbridge offers courses that will qualify students for the Bachelor of Arts in Journalism at the University of Regina. Prospective applicants must have completed at least 20 term courses to be considered for admission.

Academic Requirements for Admission

The B.A. in Journalism requires at least two years of specific university courses with a minimum academic average of 70%. All courses must be completed by April 30 of the year in which admission is sought.

Application Information for the School of Journalism:

Competition for admission to the Bachelor of Arts in Journalism program at the University of Regina is keen. Students are cautioned that adherence to the program requirements (as indicated on the previous page) is mandatory; applications will be eliminated from consideration if any required course has not been taken. Students may also apply to the Bachelor of Journalism degree program after completion of a first degree.

The School admits a maximum of 26 students per year.

Application Information:

Documents required	Deadlines
Application (available at www.urjschool.jschool.ca/admissions)	February 15
Cover letter (maximum 2 pages) indicating why you are applying and outlining any media experience you may have	February 15
A résumé (maximum 2 pages)	February 15
Supporting documents (maximum 10 pages) Note: Supporting documents can include copies of articles that you have written for publication, unpublished writing samples, reference letters, or any other material that you feel are relevant and will support your application.	February 15
Official transcripts indicating completed courses and courses currently enrolled	February 15

The average is calculated on the best 60.0 credit hours that fit the requirements. If a course has been repeated, only the second attempt will be considered even if that is not the better of the two. Pass/Fail courses are not included in the calculation of a student's average.

Although it is not necessary to maintain a full-time courseload during the pre-Journalism program, the Journalism program is a full-time load and you should be prepared to handle that.

Contact Information:

Students who are interested in the pre-Journalism program should contact Student Program Services (M2102, tel. 403-329-5106; email: artsci.advising@uleth.ca) for program selection and advice. Direct consultation with the University of Regina is also suggested.
