This is a planning guide and not a graduation check or guarantee of course offerings. You should have a program check done in your final year of studies. Students are responsible for the accuracy of their own programs. The guide should be used in conjunction with the University of Lethbridge Calendar, which is the final authority on all questions regarding program requirements and academic regulations.

Contact an Academic Advisor (www.uleth.ca/ross/academic-advising) for advising information.

Students with an academic objective of Law are generally admitted to a B.A. program at the University of Lethbridge with a major of the student's choice. The University of Lethbridge offers courses at the undergraduate level that will qualify students for application to the Faculty of Law at the University of Calgary. There are no formal pre-Law course requirements.

The Faculty of Law at the University of Calgary recognizes that students may benefit from a diverse educational background and seeks to attract applicants from business, humanities, pure science and social science undergraduate courses which develop analytical and reasoning skills. Courses which stress the use of the English language are advantageous in the preparation for a career in Law. The courses which best fit this description are found in the humanities and social sciences.

Applicants to the Faculty of Law, University of Calgary, are generally expected to have an undergraduate degree or to have completed 30 courses (90.0 credit hours) before admission. The Juris Doctor program at the University of Calgary is comprised of three years of full-time study. The Faculty of Law seeks intellectually mature students capable of rigorous post-secondary work, who will contribute to the intellectual climate of the Faculty and who possess good long-range potential for a career in Law.

For information about the B.A. or B.Sc. from the U of L after transfer to a professional faculty (Law), see the 2021/2022 University of Lethbridge Calendar, p. 142, and consult with Arts and Science Student Program Services.
